

BE A HERO WITH A HEART

Luke Power, AFL player

Being a professional footballer really makes you realise how important your health is. And meeting kids like Jessica, Abigail, Joel and Justin, who have already been through so much at such a young age, makes you understand just how important children's hospitals actually are.

These amazing kids spend so much time in hospital and are so reliant on the facilities and medication available at these hospitals, and through it all they maintain a positive outlook and keep smiling through the pain – they really are superheroes.

And that's why I was so keen to get involved with Banking on our Kids – because we can be heroes by donating just a few dollars. That's all it takes to make a huge difference to these kids' lives, and to the lives of kids just like them right across the country.

So be a hero, have a heart, and donate today! Buy a heart at any Bank of Queensland branch for $2, and write a note to a sick kid in hospitals right across the country. Not only will you be raising much-needed funds for children's hospitals, you'll also be helping to raise the spirits of these amazing kids.

BOQ's annual Banking on our Kids appeal raises valuable funds for children's hospitals around the country.
